“ My estranged brother, William C. Crosby (William's son) did not contact me, Deborah Crosby (William's daughter) to tell me my father died, or even when he was in the hospital despite knowing how to contact me.

I was estranged from my father, but had recently asked my brother for my dad's phone number to get in contact with him. My Brother and his wife refused to give me this. So they deprived not only me, but my father contact with me and everyone should know about it. And he did this with my mom as well. I made this video to them, but they refuse to even look at it, so here it is for all to see.

I love you Dad. Rest in Peace.

“ Watching that just shows how delusional you really are. I honestly feel sorry for you that you choose to be trapped in this mindset the you are the victim in all of this. It's one thing to post a video and talk about your dad. It's another thing to make a 19 minute video bashing my father for something he did not do. You had every chance to come over here and see him and your mom yet you choose to stay over seas and then play victim. The only reason you know what is going on is because you make fake Facebook profiles and stalk Angel and I's pages. We cut ties with you because you choose to defend HIM and blamed US. Saying we made the whole thing up. WE had every right to do that and clearing still do as you once again still defending him. My father has done nothing wrong and unlike you he stayed behind and was the sole person taking care of Kathy up until the very end. William was in the hospital and was barely able to talk. You knew what was going on once you saw Angels post. You could have come over at any point or even asked Angel (if you hadn't by that point) I was in Michigan for an entire week. Never once did your name get brought up. He didn't need anyone else there besides the people that actually made the effort to see him and say goodbye. This delusional call out post for the world to see, especially on Youtube is not only disturbing but distasteful. You have had 20 years of chances to make things right and you have used 20 years to make it all about you. You have no right to talk about what happened to US! To talk about what happened to Angel as if you were there. She was 4 years old! This whole thing is disgusting to have on my grandfathers Obituary because it is not about you! I'm truly sorry that you have this warped way of thinking and I truly hope nothing but the best for you and hope when your time comes you will be fully at peace with your demons. In closing though....F YOU.
